

Missing Productivity Growth?

IGM Economic Experts Panel, February 15th, 2018

The biggest reason for the measured slowdown in US productivity growth since the mid-2000s is that productivity increases have gone mismeasured, including new and better products and services that have been insufficiently captured by real output data.

Source: IGM Economic Experts Panel

See our experts votes and comments